Brokers Confident of an Improvement in Oil-Business and Talk.

The second day at the Petroleum Exchange

The second day at the Petroleum Exchange under the new system was characterized by wide and frequent fluctuations and liberal trading. Business was restricted to July delivery, later months being entirely neglected. For cash off 91%c and 92c were bid, and on one or two occasions small blocks of it were sold and bought back again in less than a minute, indicative contents.

and bought back again in less than a minute, indicating apprehensions of a shortage.

A broker remarked: "I think the new system is growing in favor. Business to-day has been satisfactory. It has been about the same as yesterday, and considerably better than the same day last week under the old plan. There has been less confusion than I expected. In a few days dealers will thoroughly understand the new deal. I have no doubt it will be a success."

June Weather Blasts Some Hopes in Line of Floral Trade.

LAKE FISH IN LIMITED SUPPLY.

HOME RAISED POTATOES ARRIVE

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, FRIDAY, June 28, 1889. In the line of fruit and vegetables the week has been characterized by the appearance of many new articles. New home potatoes, squash, string and wax beans are on the stalls for the first time in the past few days. We are also having our first taste of watermelons, cantaloups and black-berries. Said a leading dealer in fruits and vegetables, "I have never known cantaloups of such excellent quality coming so early in the season." Home raised potatoes are also ahead of time. The Fourth of July is considered early for the new potato crop in this section Strawberries still linger, but the bulk of those Strawberries still linger, but the bulk of those coming to market are of inferior grade. The arrival of so much new stuff from field and garden has stimulated trade, and we note an improvement over last week.

Butter and ergs have undergone little or no change the past week. Fancy country rolls are more firmly held. Eggs are also a shade firmer for an entirely reliable article. Poultry trade is light as it always is at this season of the year. The nets are out on the lower lakes since the 18th of June on account of Ohio prohibitory laws. The fish coming from the upper lakes where Michigan and Minnesota laws do not prohibit are not in supply for sufficient demand. A shortage of lake fish is reported by dealers. The supply from Eastern sources is ample. Prices are stiffer, Florists are not entirely satisfied with June weather, which has been far other than favorable for lawn fetes den parties. School exhibibitions and golden weddings have partially made up to the trade the past week for the loss by rains. The month of June has not come up to expectations in the florists' trade, but there is still time enough to make it up if only July will furnish as many dry days as June has rainy ones.

The prices called for at the Diamond Markets remain unchanged. Wheat Makes Another Spart on the Strength of Bad Crop Reports at Home,and Rumors of a Shortage in Russia and Austro-Hungary.

CHICAGO.—A marked change occurred in the wheat market to-day as compared with yesterday. The feeling developed was decidedly unsettled, and a sharp advance occurred during the session, but not fully sustained. Trading was active in a speculative way. The opening was about the same to 1/4 lower than yesterday's closing, which was due in part to the rather easier tone of European advices, and was sort of continuation of vesterday's and was a sort of continuation of yesterday's weakness, but shortly afterward the opening became strong, and advanced 134@134c for the various deliveries, declined 34@34c, and closed 134c higher for July, 134c higher for August, and 134 higher for December than yes-news received from the Northwest, Advices from various sources were received, noting a poor outlook. It is claimed that the rains came too late to do much good, and now the crop was receiving further injury from the hot winds.

receiving further injury from the hot winds. There were also believers in a short crop in Russia and Austro-Hungary. The advance was assisted some no doubt by the short interest covering by parties who had sold yesterday taking fright at the action of the market today. The feeling throughout the session was nervous and feverish.

A fair business was transacted in corn, and the feeling developed was a little unsettled, prices ruling lower early and higher later in the session. There was no new outside news of importance on the market, and prices were governed chiefly by local influences. The market opened a shade lower than the closing prices of yesterday and was easy for a time, influenced largely by the receipts and fine weather. A firmer tone then prevailed, due largely to the good shipping demand, and prices advanced (c, ruled easier and closed a shade lower than yesterday.

A good business was transacted in oats, but largely by the receipts and fine weather. A firmer tone then prevalled, due largely to the good shipping demand, and prices advanced & ruled easier and closed a shade lower than yesterday.

A good business was transacted in oats, but prices fluctuated within a range of 1/6%.

A fairly active trade was reported in mess pork, but the market was somewhat unsettled, and prices ruled irregular. Opening sales were made at 7% decline, and a further reduction of 10c was submitted to, with moderate trading at the declining scale. Later the market exhibited more firmness, and prices rallied 7% loc and closed comparatively steady.

A quiet and rather dull feeling prevailed in the lard market. Prices ruled 2% 5c lower, and the market closed quiet at medium figures. Trading was only moderate in short rib sides and the feeling was easier. Early in the day prices receded 2% 5c, but during the latter part of the session was steadier and prices rallied again and closed steady.

HISTORY OF A BOOM

Rise and Fall of a Visionary Enterprise That Resulted In RUIN TO MANY WORTHY PEOPLE.

Business Principles Disregarded in a Scramble for Filthy Lucre.

REAL ESTATE HOISTED OUT OF SIGHT.

The story of the panic of 1873, so far as it touched real estate in this vicinity, has never been told. Three or four years before the period in question a corporation, the title of which it is unnecessary to mention, went into operation in Pittsburg under a blanket charter which covered banking, railroads, real estate, and about everything else that could be bought and sold.

Among the stockholders, who numbered probably 1,000, were many of the best men of the city, the majority of whom were boomers, overruling the conservative minority on every point. It was in a flourishing condition, so tar as could be judged from surface indications, when the panic swooped down upon the community.

A year or two before the crash the officers of this institution thought they saw millions in real estate, somewhat upon the principle, perhaps, that influenced Colonel Sellers, in placing a high valuation upon his eye water, and they bought up large quantities of vacant land along the lines of the principal railroads and in the immediate vicinity of the railroads and in the immediate vicinity of the city, which they laid out in thousands of lots, and to which they drew attention by liberal advertising, brass bands, free lunches and limitless quantities of lager beer.

The scheme worked so well that in a short time hundreds of lots were sold on small payments and long time on the balance. A large number of housane were soon put up and occunumber of houses were soon put up and occu-pied and arrangements made for a great many more. In many cases values rose to almost

Now for the sequel. In the midst of this ap-Now for the sequel. In the midst of this ap-parent prosperity, at the very climax of the boom which was expected to lift hundreds of people from poverty to affluence and make their last days easy and comfortable, the panic came. "Oh, what a fall, my countrymen!" Trouble came thick and fast. Creditors became clamorous for their money, mortgages were foreclosed, suits innumerable instituted against the officers and stockholders of the corporation, many of whom lost all they had. Some of these suits are still pending, and are likely to be left as a legacy to the next genera-

So rose and fell a rainbow-chasing scheme which was entered upon without due considera-tion and prosecuted in utter disregard of business methods.

This brief account of one of the many vision. ary enterprises of that time clearly shows the bad effects of a boom.

The experience was costly, but necessary to prevent other and possibly greater disasters, and Pittsburg people seem to have made good use of it. Booms are so unpopular here that the mere mention of them is received with disfavor. Real estate has recovered from the de-pression; but there is nothing abnormal in its

The Committee on Magnetic Influence of Iron and Steel in Locomotives on the Watches of Engine Runners, consisting of T. W. Gen-try, James Meehan and Harvey Middleton, made a very thorough and painstaking investi-gation of the subject, the following being the more important points of the conclusions at which they arrived:

which they arrived:
We find that the magnetic influence of iron and steel in locomotives, while it may affect the watches of runners to a very slight degree, as a rule it does not amount to a serious disturbing element; and that if a watch is not exposed to any other more powerful electrical agent than nary locomotive engine, no dil would be experienced in keeping accurate time

Your committee in going over the large number of statements from locomotive runners, are convinced that much depends upon the handling of the watch and the care given it by the man in whose charge it is; and that an inferior timepiece in the hands of a careful man is sometimes more reliable than the finest watch in the hands of a runner who has no system in his method of winding, adjusting, etc. We mention this fact as having some bearing on the various causes of disturbances which the magnetic shield could not be expected to rem-

An informal meeting was held on the floor of the Exchange after the stock call yesterday afternoon, in which all the brokers present took part, looking to the enlargement of the field of operations. W. I. Mustin presided and John McKee, in a long and forcible speech, explained the object in view.

He said in substance, that the rules govern-He said in substance, that the rules governing stock trading in Pittsburg were too narrow.
They should be expanded and liberalized, so as to draw in the outside interest, which is now of foreign corporations. We have, remarked, a large number of good securities at home,

whose condition can be ascertained at any

Pittsburg is full of enterprising men, with abundant capital. It is certain that they will speculate so mewhere. They refuse to operate under our iron-clad rules, and hence send their orders to New York. This is detrimental to the city and has a depressing effect upon local stocks. Let us open the door to these people. By so doing we will benefit ourselves, build up the Exchange, and prevent home money from being scattered abroad. His plan is to extend the delivery period to two weeks, the purchaser in the meantime, by putting up a margin, to have full control of the stock, so as to be able to take advantage of any advance in the market. At the end of the two weeks he could either take the stock or allow it to be sold on his account. If it should have declined his margin would make good the dif-ference. This would give him two chances to make a turn instead of one, as now, and in-stead of paying in full for what he bought he would only be required to nut up a small perwould only be required to put up a small per-centage of the full value, paying the rest at the time of delivery. A manifest advantage of this system would be that less capital would be required, less risk encountered, and more chances to turn the investment to a good ac-

ELECTRIC SHOWS UP.

A Little Boom Develops the Fact There Is Plenty of It. The quantity of Electric brought out at the stock call yesterday afternoon was a complete refutation of the statement that has been made that it is scarce, and made it apparent to all that a very small boom would, draw it from its hiding place in any quantity desired. More of it was offered than taken at 4734. Philadelphia Gas was firmer and wanted, but only two small bundles were sold, the first at 38 and the last 1/4 less. The other gas stocks and the tractions about held their own.

Westingbonse Airbrake, Limited, could have been sold at 65, its highest point, but it was held higher. Pleasant Valley was stronger. The rest of the list was about steady and featureless. Bids, offers and sales follow: The quantity of Electric brought out at the only important concession was in Jersey Central, which yielded 3/2 per cent. The stock was an element of weakness throughout, and on very light trading it shows a loss at the end of the day of 3/2 per cent, at 110.

The bearish feeling was soon checked in the morning by the unusually heavy buying of New England, and it acted as a check to the drooping tone of the vanderbilt statement, in which the increase in the operating expenses of Lake Shore was taken as an opportunity to hammer the list by the bears.

The buying of New England was taken as evidence that some new developments in regard to the company were about to come out, and the stock was advanced 13/2 per cent to 53, but the high prices brought out considerable stock, and it yielded with the remainder in the afternoon.

The engagements for export intensified the

but the high prices brought out considerable stock, and it yielded with the remainder in the afternoon.

The engagements for export intensified the bear sentiment, and more unfavorable news from the West came to help prices down, and St. Faul became the leading weak stock, notwithstanding the very favorable reports of earnings for the month of May and the five months of the current year. The declaration of the regular dividend upon the Vanderbilts also helped ac check the decline, except in the case of the lake Shore.

After the advance in New England culminated, which was about noon, the activity in the list became much smaller and the changes in the quotations were made on an exceedingly small scale. Among the inactive shares Ohio Southern showed marked strength in the forence, rising from 14½ to 16. The active list is almost invariably lower, but, with the exception of Jersey Central, the declines are for small fractions only.

Railroad bonds showed a little more animation on the whole than usual during the past few days, but though the dealings were not so widely distributed, there was no single active feature. The sales reached $1,28,000.

Good Average.

Bankers reported checking very dull yesterday, and this was borne out by the Clearing House statement. The other routine departments transacted about an average business. Money was stated to be if good supply and rates unchanged. Currency and exchange were on even terms. The clearings were $1,587,594 $8 and the balances $315,094 $41.

Money on call at New York yesterday was easy at 285 per cent.; last loan 2: closed offered at 1½. Prime mercantile paper, 465%, Sterling exchange active and steady at $4.80% for 60-day bills, and $4.88% for demand. Closing Bond Quotations.

POOLING THEIR ISSUES.

the new deal. I have no doubt it will be a success."

July oil opened quiet at 92%c, and by easy stages reached 38c, the best figure of the day. The market then declined to 91%c, recovered, and in the afternoon reached 32%c. It fluctuated between this point and 28c until near the close, when it slumped to 90%c, recovering in a few minutes to 91%c, and closed at 91%c, a decline of %c from the opening. Thursday's clearings were $48,000 barrels.

Field news was scarce and of small importance. The Rayl well on the Makall farm, Beaver county, was doing about six barrels a day. It was brought in Thursday evening. Say & Liggett's well on the Schilling farm, near Economy, has not been tubed. It is put down for 10 to 25 barrels a day. A Big Coal Combine Approaching Cousum mation in East Tennessee.

mation in East Tennessee.

A dispatch from Knoxville, Tenn., says: "For several months there has been talk of consolidating all the coal mining companies in what is known as the Jellico district, with the exception of the Standard Coal and Coke Company at Newcomb.

"A big deal is nearing consummation, by which all the companies, with the exception of the Standard, and possibly including it, will pass into the hands of a powerful New York syndicate, with unlimited capital at the back of it.

"Leaving out the Standard Companies."

pass into the hands of a powerful live with the syndicate, with unlimited capital at the back of it.

"Leaving out the Standard Company, the transaction will call for $2,250,000, all cash. With the Standard in the deal the amount will be largely increased. The sale includes the lands, names, railroads, machinery and all appurtenances, and is a clean sweep. The companies which have already signed and will sign the contract transferring their interests are: Proctor Coal Company, W. C. Grindstead, President; Main Jellico Mountain Coal Company, M. E. Thornton, President, East Tennessee Coal Company, Newcomb, E. J. Davis, Knexville, President.

"With the present capacity the mines opened by the companies mentioned above is 25,000 tons per day. But the new company will in a short time double the capacity by opening new mines and enlarging the old ones.

"The new company is said to be largely controlled by Samnel Thomas, President of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad Company; John H. Inman and other wealthy capitalists, who are interested in the East Tennessee and other roads connected with Richmond and West Point.

"For some time past the operators in the Jellico district have complained that the East Tennessee road did not give them the same advantages as they did the Coal Creek companies, and consequently with the new arrangement all the mines on the Knoxville and Ohio will be on the same footing."

Our little girl when but three weeks old broke out with eczema. We tried the prescription from several good doctors, but without any special benefit. We tried S. S. S., and by the time one bottle was gone, her head began to heal, and by the time she had taken six bottles she was completely cured. Now she has a tes she was completely cured. Now she has a full and heavy head of hair—a robust, healthy child. I feel it but my duty to make this statement. H. T. SHOBE, Rich Hill, Mo.
